TIME BOMBS

We speak of "a government of laws, not of men." But the fact is that the physical courage, mental breath and moral character of our leaders makes all the difference between order and chaos.

Democracy as has often been said, constitutes the counting of heads for the breaking of heads. But nothing can be substituted for using our heads to see where we are headed.

Because some people have just wanted to get on in life without regard for others there are others now just wanting to get even.

The battle against moral breakdown at home is no less urgent than the battle to break through Europe.

Do we bring up our children to fit into place in the world or to change the world and make it a fit place for their children?

Unselfish people may get down to nothing in their funds. But that never seems to get them down.

Mr. Ernest H. Elsdon

Vancouver, Nov. 13 -- Ernest H. Elsdon, driller in a local shipyard, came off the night shift recently to find his room burglarized and all his savings -- 2,750 -- stolen. "If I'd had the sense to put that cash in a bank, I wouldn't have lost the $2,750 to a burglar," he said.

"I'd been saving that money to buy a house and all I've got left after months of work is a battered strong box. I made the mistake, you see, of keeping that money by me instead of putting it in the bank every pay day. Now I've got to start at the beginning again, but I'm going to stay at my job as driller and I've got the money to buy that house. No more foolish risks for me. From now on I'm letting the bank keep my cash safe. It's tough luck, when you're getting on in years, to lose the very thing you've been counting on, but what I want to do is to let other people profit by my loss. Don't take any chances -- let the bank take care of your money and then you'll have it safe and sure for the things you want to buy when the war's over."

Canadian Pacific Women Fill Enlisted Men's Places

Invading such predominantly masculine strongholds as locomotive shops and maintenance of way gangs, women have been helping to take up part of the slack caused by the enlistment of 10,285 men in the active armed forces from the Canadian Pacific Railway. At the first of September this year there were 676 women employed by the Canadian Pacific in positions normally filled by men.

This layout shows some of the women at work. Giving the final touches to the top of a locomotive in the roundhouse at Sudbury, Ont., are Olive Kennedy cleaning up the number plate and Jeanie Neil doing some other cleaning.

Smiling Vivian Constant, at the "phone" and silhouetted against the engine crew call board, is call "boy" for 77 crews in the locomotive shops at North Bay, Ont., while Mary Lemieux, pictured checking up directions at a car checker, also works in North Bay where her father, Joe Lemieux, is a Canadian Pacific trainman.

Father-daughter combinations are not unusual now as demonstrated by the railroading Savves of Sudbury in the picture where Fred Savve, company boiler-maker, sees how close he can come to his daughter, Lucille Savve, an engine wiper, with a bit of grease.

The list of women doing men's jobs shows there are 294 on eastern lines and 171 in the West in the mechanical and operating departments while the communications department is using 210 girls as telegraph messengers.

Wheat Stem Sawfly Again

Last January we drew the attention of our readers to a Dominion Government circular entitled "Control of Wheat Stem Sawfly." The Division of Entomology, Ottawa, has recently prepared a coloured map which shows the extent of sawfly infestation in the prairie provinces. The colours on the map are very bright, but the prospect rather gloomy. Sawfly is present over an area bounded by a line extending from the international boundary approximately through Winnipeg, Kamsack, Prince Albert, Edmonton, Calgary and Cardston. Obviously this leaves a comparatively small proportion of our wheat growing area entirely free from infestation.

On the lack of the sawfly map will be found a summary of the problem and brief descriptions of control measures. The following statement is made:

"Plans must be made immediately to start sawfly control on infected farms. No farmer who suffered loss in 1941 should continue raising without recognizing the problem and taking steps to reduce the loss caused by this insect."

In order to consult the sawfly map and information provided therewith, farmers have only to call on grain buyers in any of the line elevators associated with the work of the Agricultural Department of the North-West Line Elevators Association. Grain buyers also have copies of the excellent bulletin, written by Dr. C. W. Perstad, to which reference was made in our January article.

For further information, write to the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge, Saskatoon or Brandon; or to the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Regina or Winnipeg.

Czechoslovakia

AMONG THE FIRST of the smaller nations to fall under Nazi domination was the Republic of Czechoslovakia. Since that time, the Czechs in exile have continued to fight for their independence, led by their premier, Edouard Benes, and by Jan Masaryk, son of Thomas Masaryk, the founder of the republic. Recently, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the day on which Czechoslovakia became a free and independent state, was observed, and tributes came from all parts of the United Nations to the people of that country, who have so steadfastly upheld the ideals of democracy. Although their country has been occupied, and the people there subjected to all forms of Nazi persecution, the Czechs both at home and in exile, have fought the enemy in every possible way, and have never faltered in their determination to re-establish democratic government in their country when the Germans are driven out.

Long Struggle For Democracy

Czechoslovakia was formerly a part of the Austrian Empire and for many years her people struggled for their independence. This was finally achieved after the First World War, and following the Versailles Peace Conference the Republic of Czechoslovakia was created. Thomas Masaryk, who was the first prime minister, was a great leader, and under his guidance the people of Czechoslovakia established a system of government, which embodied all the democratic ideals for which they had been fighting for many years. Having gained their independence, they desired to live at peace with other nations. At the same time, they realized the vulnerability of their position in Europe, and they were well prepared to resist invasion. They did resist the Nazi attack, but were outnumbered in men and machines by the then mighty German army.

Small Nations Need Security

Czechoslovakia was attacked and overcame at a time when the other democratic nations could not send help to avert such a disaster. Since that time observers have seen in this event a graphic example of the need for collective security. It has been pointed out that no country in the world adhered more strongly to the principles of democracy, or desired more earnestly to avoid war, yet all their idealism was powerless against the attack of a mighty and unprincipled aggressor. It is clear that if, in the future, nations are to be safe from this sort of violation, we must remove the danger that Germany will ever again build up the military might which made it possible for her to destroy the greater part of the continent of Europe in the early months of the war. The people of Czechoslovakia, and the other oppressed countries, will look for some provision for their future security, when plans for the reconstruction of Europe are completed.

SQUASH AN IMPORTANT VEGETABLE

Squash is becoming an important vegetable in our diet. If more was known about the varieties and methods of serving this vegetable, you would probably use it more often. We will consider the varieties first. Squash is classified as winter and summer squash.

Winter—These varieties mature in the fall and will keep well into the winter. They should be fully matured before being stored in a dry room at a temperature between 50-60 degrees F. The winter squash varieties are Acorn or Pepper (small and green), Golden Hubbard, Hubbard (green), Banana squash, Golden Table Green. You may not have realized that winter squash is an excellent source of Vitamin A.

Summer—These mature earlier than the winter varieties and will not keep as well. The straight neck, Wagon Wheel, and Zucchini are the most common types of summer squash. Their mineral content is similar to the winter varieties, but they are much lower in Vitamin A.

Next, we will examine various methods of serving winter squash. You have probably been serving your family only baked or mashed squash and found they tire quickly of these two. There is no need for monotony in your meals when you are serving winter squash. It lends itself to many combinations and may be used in a wide variety of ways. As a dessert, main dish, vegetable or soup, squash can make its appearance in any course.

In preparing squash you should wash it, remove the seeds and pithy part and cut to desired size for serving. Boil, Steam and Zucchini are the best methods. Glazed Squash—prepare as above and peel. Steam until partially tender, brush each piece with melted butter, season, sprinkle thickly with brown sugar and finish cooking in hot oven.

Squash and Pepper Casserole—prepare as above, cut squash into 1/2-inch slices and bake at 350 degrees F. for 35 minutes in a covered casserole with thin rings of green pepper, a little onion, butter, bread crumbs. The Consumer Section of the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture has several recipes for squash dishes. The following is recommended by this section:

SQUASH PUFF

3 cups mashed squash
1 cup soft, stale bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Combine squash, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and baking powder. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a greased casserole, brush over with melted fat and sprinkle with brown sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., until well puffed and set, about 40 minutes. Six to eight servings.

Our Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By J. G.)

THE folks out Morden, Manitoba, H.W.C.S. "Morden", a corvette, which won awards for three of its crew, when rescuing the crew of a torpedoed merchant freighter, the John Douglas Watson, the commander, got a British Empire Medal for his fine work. The Morden rescued 102 members of the freighter crew, salvaged the 80-ton motor launch and gear from the sinking ship, and piloted it 300 miles through a storm-tossed sea. Telegraphist Harry Taylor of Gregg, Manitoba, and Signaller Joe Shacter, Regina, Sask., were in on the action.

If you see a Canadian with ribbon decoration on his breast, green, scarlet, royal blue, scarlet and green, you will know it is the Canadian Volunteer Medal, awarded for more than 18 months voluntary active service. Those who have served outside of Canada will wear a little silver maple leaf on the ribbon.

Don't be puzzled if you see anyone in an Army uniform wearing an R.C.A.F. arm band. Those obtaining their discharges to get an air crew, wear it for identification purposes, but all army rank badges and chevrons are removed during this period.

Men in the Royal Canadian Navy are really Jack of all trades. The British public have expressed their great appreciation for seamen of the R.C.N. who have been spending their shore leave helping out on farms in Northern England, while their ships were in British ports. Here's the story of 23-year-old Lieut. Donald MacKay. Although his ship was a minesweeper, he did everything under the sun except minesweeping. They engaged in convoy escort duties, patrolling and even anti-aircraft work among the Arabs. "Slave trading bands were causing a lot of trouble in the Gulf. They'd go into Persia and entice people with the offer of good pay and jobs, and then ship them across the Gulf into the desert, and they'd never be heard from again. Our job was to intercept the ships and catch the people. It was a pretty ticklish business."

Canadian sailors standing watch on the North Atlantic this winter will be outfitted with something new to keep them dry and warm called a Waterproof Protective Suit. The new outfit consists of two sets of coveralls. The inner one is of rubber, windproof and spray-resistant material, lined with double pile wool, and the outer of butyl (synthetic) rubber, a material being hailed as the successor to oilskin. Everything is zippered and the whole can be shed in seconds in an emergency.

If you are thinking of sending letters or gifts to soldiers in Canada, but expected to be overseas before the end of December, they should be addressed this way: Regimental Number; Name of Lieutenant; Service or Unit; c/o Poste Restante, Canadian Postal Corps Headquarters, Stoker Army Officer Richard J. War, of West Westminster, B.C., was the "first bridegroom" in the new chapel—constructed by sailors at H.M.C.S. "Niobe" manning post on the Canadian Navy. The bride and the bride were on a fancy wedding for the occasion. He married Nursing Sister Mary, of Lantzville, B.C., who was on the ship's gangway. The bride was played by Sub-Lieut. Ted Smith, of Saskatoon, Sask. In the midst of honor was P.O. Harry Ball, of Lantzville, one of the 16 pulling the bride car was R.P.O. Bill Gibbs, of Winnipeg, and S.P.O. Herbert Popp, of Foxford, Sask.

WHERE PRICES ARE HIGH
The Lethbridge Herald says when you complain of food prices as being high, think of the Alaskan, where milk is 25 cents a quart, bread 15 cents a loaf, butter 72 cents a pound, beef 70 cents a pound, ham and eggs, $1, and an ice cream cone 20 cents.

Motor cars converted into animal-drawn vehicles are seen today in Kingston, Ontario. Petrol-driven vehicles have vanished.

An Excellent Reservoir

Old Oil Field In California Is A Storage Tank For Natural Gas
An old oil field near the city of Los Angeles, California, is being put to valuable wartime use as a natural tank to store natural gas. The Del Rey field, covering some 310 acres, contains a layer of porous oil sands about 85 feet thick from which the original oil has been removed. This provides an excellent reservoir for some two billion cubic feet of natural gas, which can be pumped into the subterranean tanks during abundant oil wells.

The problem of storing gas in the Los Angeles area became acute with the growth of war industry and population, and when the need was thus created, materials to build orthodox tanks became scarce for the same reason.

Garage Mechanic: "What's the trouble with your car?"
Mrs. Newdrew: "They tell me that I've got a short circuit. Can you lengthen it while I wait, please?"

"Now," began the architect, "if you'll give me a general idea of the kind of house you need—"
"I want something," replied the husband, "to go with a door knocker my wife brought home from Java."

Manager—Didn't you read the letter I sent you?
Office Boy—Yes, sir. I read it inside and outside. On the inside it said, "You are fired," and on the outside it said, "Return in five days," so here I am.

Wife—Isn't this ducky frock?
Husband—I'd call it a peltan, judging by the bill.

"Do you know that your wife is going about telling everybody that you can't keep her in clothes?"
"That's nothing. I bought her a home and I can't keep her in that either."

Horace was sent to his room for taking forbidden cake from the cupboard. His father, thinking to make his punishment more impressive, went to his room, and, after all was forgiven, said: "Now, Horace, what did I punish you for?"
"Well, Ma, I like that! I've been kept in bed all afternoon, and you don't know what you did it for!"

The traveller put up for the night at a little country town, put his shoes outside the door to be shined, but found them unshined the next morning.

"I left my shoes outside and they weren't taken away. . . . he began to say the next morning.
"You might have left your watch there, too," interrupted the landlady. "We're all honest people here."

Pamela had been naughty, and when she went to bed her mother said: "When you say your prayers be sure to ask God to make you a good girl tomorrow."
With an inquiring glance up into her mother's face, she asked: "Why, what's on tomorrow?"

A Flying World

People In Future Will Want To Travel By Air

The Victoria Colonist says: After this war there is little doubt that civilian air passenger traffic will eclipse anything that the world has ever seen. People who have crossed a continent in eighteen hours, or an ocean in ten hours, will not likely return to week-long trips on any other medium. Coming generations will fly, or be flown, with as little concern over that fact as present generations have shown regard to boats, trains and automobiles. It will be a flying world.

Winter Clothes For Wild Life Which Are Strictly Practical

Now is the time when inhabitants of the northland are changing into winter clothes. This applies not only to Indian and trapper but to numerous wild creatures some of which grow a marked transformation. Brown, hares and weasels and mottled ptarmigan (Arctic grouse) will quickly acquire coats as white as the snow that will blanket their homeland. Specimens of these animals in the Royal Ontario Museum's study collections show various stages in this change. It is not accomplished by some mysterious transmutation of colour in the old coat as has been supposed by some people. It comes about by the replacement of hair or feathers, a doffing of old and growing of new winter clothes for wildlife, unlike those of humans, are not "designed" to be revealing. The style for this year, as every year, will be strictly practical.

Wartime Weather

The Effect Of Heavy Cannon Fire Has No Effect On Weather
Another myth is exploded: that of the effect of heavy cannon fire on weather. In spite of the seemingly enormous amounts of energy released by large-scale military operations, scientists assure us that this energy is "puny" compared with those controlling air movements involved in weather.

The belief that firing cannon into clouds will bring rain on a fair day is stated to be utterly groundless. To control the weather, we must be able to move about as we please masses of air weighing at least hundreds of billions of tons, a feat yet far beyond human power.

Monopoly is a difficult thing to control and regulate. It is just as dangerous in the hands of labor as it is in the hands of capital.
